Development & Guiding a Strategic Planning Process for the Covington Central Riverfront Strategic Master Plan

I want to thank all eleven (11) teams for submitting their qualifications for review. This process, leading to a vision of the re-use of the IRS Processing Center, will be a major component for the future of the Covington community. The review panel and I saw the significant effort each of you put into your qualifications packet. While we enjoyed reading about the rich background each of you would bring to the table, we also know that it would be a difficult decision to narrow down the list of whom to invite to the next step.

After reviewing and rating each of the qualifications packets against the review criteria set out within the RFQ packet, the following firms are invited to continue in the review process:

- AECOM
- Cooper Carry
- MKSK
- Nbbj

The members of the review panel appreciate all the work each firm did to create its submission. The diverse panel of community stakeholders were impressed by the wide array of experience presented. This was a difficult process, but we all thank you for participating.
