Garrard Street

Consider a building's entire site when rehabilitating it. Site features include driveways, walkways, garages, outbuildings (such as carriage houses), lighting, fences, walls, benches, terraces, signs, foundations, berms, drainage ditches, trees, plantings, and archeological features. The relationship between historic buildings and the landscape features within a property's boundaries, or the building site, helps define the historic character and should be considered an important part of any projects.
